Africell CEO Commissions Renovated Bo Clock Tower, Reinforcing Commitment to Cultural Heritage

Bo, Sierra Leone – The Chief Executive Officer of Africell Sierra Leone, Mr. Shadi Gerjawi, has officially commissioned the newly renovated historic Bo Clock Tower, marking a significant milestone in the company's continued investment in community development and cultural preservation.

The commissioning ceremony, held in Bo earlier today, drew the presence of local authorities, community stakeholders, and residents who gathered to witness the unveiling of the upgraded landmark. The Bo Clock Tower, a longstanding symbol of the city's identity and history, has undergone extensive renovation aimed at preserving its legacy for future generations.

Speaking at the event, Mr. Gerjawi emphasized Africell's dedication not only to delivering quality telecommunications services but also to contributing meaningfully to national development. He noted that preserving cultural landmarks like the Bo Clock Tower reflects the company's broader vision of supporting heritage and fostering national pride.

"This project demonstrates our commitment to the people of Sierra Leone beyond connectivity. We believe in investing in initiatives that celebrate the country's rich history and strengthen community identity," he said.

The Mayor of Bo City

Council Kobba Musa also commended Africell Sierra Leone for its continued contributions to infrastructure and community growth. Praising the initiative, the Mayor described the company as a reliable partner in development.

"Africell na serious network," he remarked, highlighting the company's consistent efforts in improving connectivity while also supporting projects that uplift the community and preserve cultural heritage.

Residents expressed appreciation for the facelift of the iconic structure, noting that the renovation has restored pride in one of Bo's most recognizable landmarks. Many described the initiative as timely and impactful, especially in maintaining the city's historical identity amid modernization.

The Bo Clock Tower renovation is part of Africell Sierra Leone's broader corporate social responsibility agenda, which focuses on community empowerment, infrastructure development, and cultural preservation across the country.

With the successful commissioning of the project, Africell continues to position itself as not just a telecommunications provider, but a key partner in Sierra Leone's social and cultural advancement.

ICONA London Expands Reach with New Calaba Town Outlet

ICONA London, a global brand with a strong presence in Sierra Leone, has opened its newest outlet in Calaba Town, in the eastern part of the capital, Freetown. The event was attended by stakeholders from the Calaba Town community, Chief Imam Shiek Issa Ghalie Sesay, the Councillor, and the Member of Parliament representing the constituency. The event was also attended by ICONA London management and staff. See pictures of the event.

DNA Test Reveals that Idris Elba is Not a Sierra Leonean

Idris Elba's DNA test results have left him stunned - he's 10% Ghanaian, 10% Nigerian, and 20% Bantu, with no indication of Sierra Leonean ancestry, despite his father being from Sierra Leone. The actor took the test twice to confirm, even eating jollof rice and okro before the second test, but the results were the same. Interestingly, Elba's Ghanaian mother doesn't believe in DNA testing, calling it a "money-making scheme"

Elba was born in the UK and grew up there, but had previously been awarded a Sierra Leonean passport by President Julius Maada Bio during a visit to the country. He's currently working on an ambitious Bonthe city project.

Jimmy B Applauds Drizilik's

Popular Sierra Leonean musician, music producer, and actor Jimmy B has praised rapper Drizilik in a comment he posted on Drizilik's page. Jimmy B, regarded as the 'Godfather' of Sierra Leone's music industry, was reacting to a video performance in Makeni that Drizilik posted on his official Facebook page. The video shows Drizilik performing one of his hit songs with the crowd rapping some of the verses alongside Drizilik.

Jimmy B wrote: "The NOW! The FUTURE! Stay hungry, stay focus, be humbled and above all, have the fear of God. There's no stopping you. Seeing that synergy between you and the crowd reminds me of a different time. Great FLASHBACK!

Simply AMAZING! Thank you Drizi...."

The video has generated over 20,000 Likes on Facebook with over 500 comments. One of Drizilik's fans, Lawrence Lomprie Mansaray, posted on the thread: "When he started, some of us who knows pure music knew he would be loved by fans and would go far with his career. He brought a different taste in his craft and was able to captivate everyone. Today the world knows his name."

LAJ Remanded in Prison: Court Adjourned to April 14

Popular Sierra Leonean rapper Alhaji Amadu Bah, known as LAJ, has been remanded in custody until April 14, 2026, after appearing at the Bo Magistrate Court. LAJ and co-defendant Ibrahim Koroma, also known as Prezo Koroma, face allegations of cyberbullying and insulting conduct against Kenema City Mayor Thomas Karimu Baio. The court initially remanded them on April 2, and the case has drawn significant public attention.

LAJ has an upcoming show at Sugarland Beach on April 24th, and his fans are uncertain if it will proceed as planned. This isn't LAJ's first detention; the 'Money Nar Bank' star has been in and out of prison for various charges.
